

THE BRECKENRIDGE NEWS.

ALL THE NEWS THAT'S FIT TO PRINT.

VOL. XXXII. CLOVERPORT, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 11, 1908. 8 Pages NO. 35

PROMPT ACTION IS URGED.

Breckenridge Tobacco Growers Discuss the Past and Future in Call Meeting.

CORPORATION BEING ORGANIZED

Hardinsburg, Ky., March 9. (Special) Pursuant to a meeting of several interested members of the American Society of Equity, a call was made for a meeting of all parties who now own pooled tobacco. The object of the meeting held Saturday was to hear reports from the officials who have the direction of the sale of the tobacco. A further and more important object of the meeting was to bring all factions together and agree on some future plan of action.

For the purpose of a conference and a general discussion of all matters pertaining to the tobacco situation, the following committee was appointed and held a long conference in the County Judge's office, viz: Herbert M. Beard, John O'Reilly, James W. Miller, Lon Jarboe, Jack Jolly, Mike Miller, Dr. J. H. Hart, Silas Miller, W. S. DeJarnette, Tioe Hendricks, Nelse Jolly and H. DeH. Moorman.

Dr. Silas Miller, on behalf of the County Committee, and John O'Reilly and Mr. Jarboe, on behalf of the re-handlers, reported the present conditions with regards to sales. All of the 1905 crop except a few hogsheds is sold. The trash of the 1906 is practically all sold. It is thought that a round price of $9 could be had for the remaining leaf and lugs and the committee feels that it should have $10, and the indications point to getting this price. Many matters of importance and general interest were discussed by the Committee, but the sum and substance of it all was that there must be a Breckenridge County Organization formed at once. Judge Moorman then presented to the Committee a draft of Articles of Incorporation of the nature he conceived the situation to demand. The Committee unanimously adopted the articles and recommend the adoption of this plan to the growers.

A resolution passed by the committee suggested that all past differences between the growers were the result chiefly of misunderstandings of the acts and motives of each other, and that henceforth good sense demanded that they all stand as one man and as members of one organization. The Committee recommended that the acreage be curtailed to 10000 hills to the man. The Committee endorsed Messrs. Miller, O'Reilly and Jarboe in their ideas as to the sale of the remainder of the 1906 tobacco. The Committee made its report to the growers who had assembled in the court room and the meeting adjourned.

A short outline of the proposed corporation is, in brief, as follows: Name, Breckenridge Tobacco Association. Capital stock, $5000, divided into 1000 shares of $5 each. The usual officers, with a Board of Directors of fifteen members. The object: To have the same powers as all the other tobacco organizations, to control acreage, them to receive, handle and sell, in what ever manner most advisable, the tobacco of the grower. Frank Ruppert, at Glendene, and Herbert M. Beard, at Hardinsburg, are receiving subscriptions for stock. Growers are signing practically without exception. More about it next week.

Consults a Physician.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Ahl, of Tobinsport, Ind., went to Louisville Saturday. Mr. Ahl is in declining health and went to consult a physician.

Dr. D. B. Beeler of the "Best" Pain-ess Dental Parlors, 307 West Jefferson street, Louisville, Ky., will be at Stephensport, Ky., March 10, 11, 12 and 13, to do all kinds of dental work, and also be able to take out teeth by the use of gas.

Get Baldwin Prizes.

Miss Julia Lyons, of Irvington, Misses Ray Heyser and Louise Nichols, of Cloverport, received cash certificates last week from Baldwin & Co., Louisville, for correctly solving their rebus.

Pain can be quickly stopped. A 25c box of Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets will kill any pain, everywhere in 20 minutes. Besides they are thoroughly safe. Painful periods with women, neuralgia, etc., quickly cease after one tablet. All dealers.

SOUTHERN MAN WINS MRS. LANEAVE.

Robert McEwen Marries Former Cloverport Woman in Nashville.

WEDDING A SURPRISE.

The following clipping from a Nashville newspaper says: "Mrs. Ella Mai LaNeave and Mr. Robert McEwen were quietly married yesterday at the home of the bride, 1401 South Street. Rev. George C. Bachman, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by Messrs. J. Frank Davis, of Nashville, and J. K. Hughes, of Franklin, and which took place at 5:30 p. m.

The bride, who wore a handsome gown of brown silk, has recently moved to Nashville from Franklin, where she was exceedingly popular. Mr. McEwen was connected with the Maxwell for a number of years, where he made a host of friends. He is now manager at Red Boiling Springs."

Mrs. McEwen is the daughter of Mrs. A. S. English and a sister of Messrs. Frank and Ed. English, of this city. The wedding came as a surprise to the family, although the marriage is the culmination of a long courtship. Mrs. McEwen is a most attractive woman and has a host of friends in Cloverport.

Arrive From Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rosecrans arrived in Sample last week from Coldwater, Mich., to visit her sister, Mrs. Charlie Springer. After they complete their visit they will go to Cabot where Mr. Rosecrans has bought a home and fine farm.

New Library Books In.

Forty new books have been received by Mr. Wick Moorman for the Cloverport Circulating Library. They are open and ready at Severs Drug Company's store for the subscribers. The collection consists of the latest and best books of the season.

Business Meeting.

A business meeting will be held at the Baptist church tonight and the Rev. James T. Lewis earnestly desires that all the church members be present.

Enters Hat Business.

Miss Evelyn Hicks has been in Louisville several days buying goods to open millinery parlors in this city at an early date. Miss Hicks has attained quite an accomplishment in dress making, which she will continue in connection with her new line of business.

Fire At Fordsville.

An extensive fire was narrowly averted at Fordsville Thursday morning. Three buildings were burned, causing a loss of $4,000, partially insured. The buildings of Ed. E. Roberts, D. Lanham and Ed. Wallace were destroyed. Mr. Roberts and Mr. Lanham had no insurance on their property.

Two Series Of Sermons At The Baptist Church.

Begun Feb. 23rd, 4th Sunday, by the pastor, at 11 o'clock. Subject "Holy Spirit." Evening services. Subject "Sermon on the Mount." We hope to continue these two subjects under the guidance of the Spirit. The subjects are of vital importance to all. We trust that a large proportion of the membership will meet the pastor from time to time in this series. All others who desire are welcome and invited.

J. T. Lewis.

Robert Pierce Makes Good.

Robert Pierce left yesterday for Louisville to accept a position as clerk in the chief engineer's office of the Henderson Route. Mr. Pierce has made good at every work he has undertaken and he is progressing rapidly in railroad circles for a young man.

Sells Farm.

Jonas Lyons has sold his valued farm near Irvington to Will Simmons. It consisted of 140 acres. The consideration was $4000.

AN EXTRA SESSION

This May Be the Outcome of Placing the County Unit Bill on the Shelf.

THERE IS STRONG TALK OF THIS

Frankfort, Ky., March 10.—And now the county bill is dead, unless an extra session is called to pass it. The bill passed the house and would have passed the senate had it ever reached a vote, but a parliamentary ruse was adopted to prevent it ever reaching a vote. The few whisky Democrats in the senate hold the balance of power and they were willing to do anything to anybody or for anybody to defeat the county unit bill. The other Democrats were told that if they did not help kill the bill the whisky Democrats would unite with the Republicans and pass the Republican redistricting bills, the bills to oust all the Democrats from the offices at the prisons and asylums, and the bill authorizing grand juries of any county to investigate penal offenses in any other county in the state. This put the Democrats up against a tough proposition, for most of them wanted to vote for the unit bill. They had but one alternative, however, to let the Republicans have all the offices and the next legislature, or put the unit bill on the shelf. They put the unit bill on the shelf. Speaking of the county unit bill, there seems to be much apprehension as to the real meaning of the bill. The last legislature passed a county unit bill that applied to every county in the state except those containing cities of the first, second, third and fourth classes, these cities being given the right to vote on the local option question separately from the county in which they are situated. What is called the county unit bill this session is a bill to extend the provisions of the law passed two years ago, so that no city shall have the right to vote on the liquor question separately from the county. The cities claim that it is unjust to allow a county to vote away a big slice of their income and thereby force them to increase their tax rate, and that it is taxation without representation. The county people claim that the saloons in the cities affect the morals of the county and the country people ought to have the right to vote to close up the saloons. This is the bone of contention.

There is strong talk of an extra session being called by Governor Willson for the purpose of having the county unit bill the redistricting bills and several other bills enacted, and some of the governor's close friends say he will call it. The governor himself remains silent, but the frequency with which he has urged the passage of these bills looks very much like he is in the frame of mind to order the extra session.

It was believed that no further school-book legislation would be necessary in Kentucky for many years, but the senate has just passed a bill on the subject, and the funny part about it is that no one seems to know just exactly what will be accomplished by it, though it is claimed that the only object is to give cities and towns more latitude than they now have in the adoption of school-books. The bill provides that there shall be no maximum price fixed for books as under the existing law, but that the price charged by the book companies for the books shall be no greater than that charged for books of the same quality sold in other states. An amendment offered by Senator Newman was adopted, providing that no maximum price shall be fixed for any particular book, but the prices on a series of books shall not be higher than the following: Spelling-books, 16 cents; readers, $1.90; arithmetics, $1; language lessons, 40 cents; writing books, 32 cents; composition, 60 cents; geography, $1.45; physiology, 85 cents; United States history, $1.20; history of Kentucky, 60 cents; civil government, 40 cents; grammars, 45 cents.

It is said here that Ginn & Co., of Chicago are pushing the bill and that the American Book company is fighting it, so the bill must be in the interest of a book company rather than in the interest of the schools. It developed in the argument in the senate that someone interested in the passage of the bill had, early in the session, forged a letter purporting to be signed by former State Superintendent Fuqua and mailed a copy to every member of the legislature. The spurious letter stated that legislation along the lines provided for in the above bill ought to be passed in the interest of better schools. Senator Linn read a letter from Prof. Fuqua, who is now in Texas, saying he never wrote such a letter and never heard of it, and that it was a base forgery. Strenuous efforts are being made to push the bill through the house, but it will take clever work to pass it.

THE FIRE.

Seven Years Ago The Heart of Cloverport Was In Ashes.

CONDUCTOR SMITH'S STORY.

Conductor L. H. Smith, of the Henderson Route, came through Cloverport at 3:30 o'clock this morning. When the train came within five miles the trainmen saw the heavens lighted as bright as though the sun shone. The train was forced to stop three-quarters of a mile from the flames, as the blaze was nearly hot enough to melt the paint on the cars. The trainmen at once attempted to render what aid they could, but they, too, were helpless. The wind was blowing a gale, and the people were huddled around shivering, women and children were crying. The scene was one the trainmen will never forget.

About 5 o'clock the Evansville relief train came with a fire engine, which was of no avail, and in a short while the fire began to die down, having consumed everything in its path.

The grocery and clothing stores were all destroyed, and the people having been forced to flee from the burning buildings have only the clothing they were wearing or had hastily donned. There was no place where they could go to except the L. H. & St. L. railroad depot, and thither a great number were taken. The agent, Mr. Hudson, wired to Louisville for permission to care for them, and a great many women and children spent the night in the box cars on the sidings there.

A few of the residents saved a portion of their household goods, taking them from their residences before the flames reached them. These have been liberally shared with others who were in want.

Mr. Smith says that the people at Cloverport estimate the loss at $500,000, with insurance at about one-half this amount.—Breckenridge News, March 1901.

Entertained Informally.

A pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Kingsbury Saturday night by the following: Mr. and Mrs. John Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Stith, Misses Katie and Margaret Wroe, Lucetta Miller, Cora McCoy and Ola Fallon. Flinch and other games were enjoyed.

Illness at Victoria.

Wm. McGovern was in town Saturday after being housed in at his home on account of illness. He and Mrs. McGovern and their five children have had grip. Mr. McGovern is one of the pioneers of Victoria, having lived there all his life.

Father Niehaus Interested In The News.

Jno D Babbage: Dear Friend, You will kindly extend my subscription for another year. I owe two years. I am still interested in the News.

I am Truly yours, Rev Geo Niehaus Ekron, Ky.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure
The only baking powder made with Royal Grape Cream of Tartar
No Alum, No Lime Phosphate

Our Colored Subscriber

Likes The News.

Stephensport, Ky., March 7, 1908. Mr. John D. Babbage.

Dear Sir:—You find enclosed $1.00 for my renewal to the Breckenridge News. I'd be lost without the News. I have taken it so long. Thank you for the past favors.

Yours truly, James Miller.

Large Contract.

W. L. Ball & Sons, of McQuady, have contracted with Moorman & Howard, of Glendene, for 600 tobacco hogsheds.

To get well and keep well take McLean's Cordial. Proved by more than fifty years of use to be the very best health preserver, strength maker and blood purifier. 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle at all dealers.

Mr. D'Huy Entertained.

Joe D'Huy, of Evanston, Ill., was the guest of honor at a Hearts party given Saturday evening by Miss Ruth Haynes. Although the affair was informal it was most delightful and congenial to the guests.

During Mr. D'Huy's stay here he has been the guest of his aunt, Mrs. James Cordrey, having come here from New Orleans where he attended the Mardi Gras festivities.

Tobinsport Girl Gets $9000.

Miss Emma Sanders, who was thrown from a street car in Kansas City six months ago, brought suit against the Street Car Company for injuries received and got $9,000. She is a twin sister of Mr. Frank Sanders, of Tobinsport, and a niece of Mr. Robert Polk, of this city. Miss Sanders is expected home soon for a visit to her relatives here and across the river.

Watch For BEARD'S
Big Opening
Date
Hardinsburg, Ky.

We pay cash for Produce

Don't fail to attend
Glasscock & Co's.

We pay cash for Produce

Sweeping Reduction Sale

Dry Goods, Groceries, Clothing, Shoes, Hats and every article in our store.

There is something doing with us every day and hour. People are finding out every week that our store is the place to get bargains. They are also finding out that we pay the highest prices for produce. We are the Low Price Home.

Flour
55c 65c
and 70c

GLASSCOCK & CO.
GLENDEANE, KY.

Cabbage
1 1/2c
Pound